

WITH THE LIBERALS AT THE HELM GREAT BRITAIN HAS IMMENSE SURPLUS

Chancellor of the Exchequer Asquith Presents his First Budget Which is Said to Favor the Great Middle Class—Government Commits Itself to Reduction of the National Debt and Reinstatement of the Country's Credit—Deficit of Quarter of a Million Turned Into Surplus of Twenty Seven Millions.

Associated Press Dispatch.

London, April 18.—In a house crowded in every part and with the Prime of Wales among the listening people, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Herbert Asquith, in an able two hours' speech to-day, delivered the budget. If not rivalling the great financial achievements of his famous predecessors, Gladstone and Harcourt, the statement has the merit of extreme simplicity in its main features. Judging by the debate which followed, it will meet with a larger degree of general approval and less sectional antagonism than usually falls to the lot of budget statements.

Labour Party's Objection.

The most persistent complaint emanates from the extreme section of the Labor party, which is disappointed at the postponement of the pension scheme and the absence of any direct relief in the taxation of the working classes. James K. Hardie frankly said it is a brutal budget, but he admitted his belief that the government has no intention of dealing with the question during its lifetime, but purposes to reserve it as an effective election plank, when it becomes necessary to go to the country.

A "Middle-Class Budget."

That there is some foundation for the complaints of the working classes may be regarded from the fact that in the lobbies of the House the statement was generally classed as a "middle class budget." Mr. Asquith had the rare good fortune of dealing with a year of unusual prosperity in national finances. The national debt is being reduced rapidly, and in this connection the Chancellor of the Exchequer announced that the government held it as an obligation to "re-instate" and improve the national credit.

Main Features.

Briefly stated, the estimated deficit of $30,000,000 for 1906-7, Mr. Asquith realized a surplus of $20,000,000, for 1907-8 he estimates the surplus at $17,140,000. His proposals are for a reduction in indirect taxation, but to provide relief from the burden of the income tax by preferential treatment of earned incomes below $10,000 a year to the extent of six per cent. every five dollars. To compensate for the loss from this measure he proposes that the death duties be increased.

The chancellor promises an old-age pension scheme for next year, and sets aside $7,200,000 for this purpose. The unusually brief debate which followed Mr. Asquith's statement was devoid of any particularly interesting features.

Millions of Surplus.

The financial statement issued by the treasury in advance of the chancellor's speech informed the people that the realized surplus for 1906-7 was $20,000,000, which in accordance with the law would be devoted to the reduction of the public debt. Mr. Asquith estimated the expenditure for 1907-8 at $70,735,000.

Result of Taxes.

The revenue on the existing basis of taxation was estimated to be $70,000,000. The permanent reduction of the national debt for 1906-7 was announced to be $60,730,000.

Mr. Asquith opened his speech with a brief review of the past year, pointing out that with the exception of the stock markets, which suffered from the money stringency, trade at home and abroad had been remarkably flourishing.

Treasury Receipts.

Treasury receipts were over $18,000,000 in excess of the estimates. The chancellor, in accounting for $4,000,000 of this sum, said the balance was made up by increased receipts from the coal duty and silver. The latter were due to an increased demand for foreign exchange, increased state of trade, and the large amount of silver required for various purposes in connection with the general elections. The latter remark remind the House of numerous references to recent elections on an account of alleged bribery, and called forth some laughter.

Reduction in Duties Affecting Revenue.

As a whole, the revenue returns, the chancellor added, had not shown great elasticity, and in view of the undoubted prosperous state of trade they were distinctly disappointing. The reduction in the tea duty for the last budget had been followed by increased consumption, amounting to 4,500,000 pounds. The revenue on tobacco had not realized expectations, and there had been a progressive fall in the revenue from the revenue from the alcohol group since 1899 up to last year.

As chancellor of the exchequer, Mr. Asquith was glad to say that there were signs of a reaction, and the present year had furnished an increase of $2,470,000 on these receipts.

Telephone Affair Penal Revenue.

Continuing, the chancellor said there had been a falling off in the revenue from stamps owing to the slackness of operations on the stock exchange and the fact that the telephone was superseding letters.

Turning to the financial year of 1907-8 the chancellor estimated the expenditure of $70,735,000, showing a reduction of $3,200,000, compared with 1906-7. He hoped the reduction would be continued and progressive.

On the existing basis of taxation, the revenue for the forthcoming year was estimated at $70,500,000, showing an estimated surplus of $17,140,000.

National Debt Greatly Reduced.

Discussing the liabilities of the state, the chancellor announced amidst cheers that the permanent reduction in national debt in the course of 1906-7 amounted to $67,750,000.

He estimated that during the year the nucleus of the national debt would be reduced by $50,000,000, and that a fund for the relief of indigent old age would be formed. In addition to the $7,200,000 net set aside towards the national debt, the chancellor estimated that the total of $11,250,000. The chancellor relied confidently on further economy in the expenditure and on the support of the nation and the government in this direction.

The Liberals' Policy.

Dealing with the lines by which the Liberal administration proposed to direct the finance of the country during the next few years, the chancellor said: "We are under the immediate obligation of reinstating and improving the national credit."

During the recent fall in gold prices, the chancellor said that the consols were still the premier security. The existing conditions were largely the result of unqualified confidence in the government, and not only to the government, but to the community at large.

Social Reform Needed.

The further reduction of the national debt was the paramount duty of the government, but behind all that was the unconquered territory of social reforms.

"I am not a socialist," the chancellor remarked, "but there is nothing which appeals to us so loudly and imperiously as the possibility of social reform."

Old Age Pensions.

In regard to old age pensions, the chancellor said he would not commit himself to any scheme for the present. Everything must be done in the future. But in behalf of the government he declared that in the sphere of finance, the ministers regarded old age pensions as being the most demanded for social reform.

It is their hope and intention before the close of next session of parliament, if they were allowed to have their way, to lay a firm foundation for this reform.

Income Taxes.

The tax on tea remains unchanged, but there will be a different action hereafter in the taxation upon earned and unearned incomes. A rebate of six cents in the pound sterling will be allowed on the income tax on earned incomes under $10,000 a year. He estimated the loss in differentiation of the income tax at $4,000,000. A rebate of the death duties to make up the loss on the income tax was suggested.

No Further Reduction of Taxes.

Finally the chancellor said that if the objects of the government, namely, the strengthening of the national credit, and the creation of a fund for social reform, were to be carried out, he could not do anything involving a permanent diminution of the revenue. He was satisfied that a further reduction in the duty on tea by two cents would not affect the consumer, and he did not propose to make any change this year in indirect taxation.

Will Differentiate in Income.

The chancellor intended, however, to deal indirectly with the income tax, which in its present shape would remain. The reduction would be in addition to all the present rebates, but it would be confined to the earned incomes of persons of whose total income from all sources did not exceed $10,000.

In conclusion, the chancellor, after making all deductions, said he had a disposable surplus of $10,140,000, and that he would set aside $1,000,000 for emergencies. The remaining $9,140,000 would be invested in the sinking fund, and set aside for old age pensions, etc.

Report That Policeman "Approached" One of the Jury Twelve.

Associated Press Dispatch.

New York, April 18.—It was announced today that the district attorney had begun the investigation of the report that one of the jurors in the trial of Harry K. Thaw was "approached" by a policeman before the trial closed. Harry B. Reilly, Thaw's counsel, had an interview with District Attorney Jerome late today at the latter's office. Later it was announced that several others of the Thaw jurors would be asked to come to the district attorney's office tomorrow to tell what they knew of the report in question. It was reported that a policeman talked with a juror on one of the walks the jury took from the criminal court building to the Broadway Central hotel.

ELECTROCUTED AT MIDNIGHT

Dayton Physician Goes to Chair for Murder of his Parents and Brother.

Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, Ohio, April 18.—Dr. Oliver C. Henth, the Dayton physician, was electrocuted at midnight tonight for the murder of his parents and his brother on Nov. 1, 1906.

The Henth home at Dayton was burned and the bodies of the elder Huths, his wife and son were found. Henth's defense was insanity, but he was found legally sane. It was brought out, however, that he was addicted to the use of a drug known as hyoscine, hydro-bromide. Attempts were made also to connect him with the murder of several women in Cincinnati, who were mysteriously strangled.

COMMISSION MUST DECIDE

As to Whether C.P.R.'s Application for Spur Conveys With G. T. P.'s Privileges.

It is improbable that the city will take any action on the latter recently received from the railway commission calling attention to the application of the Canadian Pacific railway to construct a branch line in the city, crossing 11th, 12th, 13th, 14th, 15th and 16th streets.

As the matter now stands the G. T. P. have exclusive switching privileges west of Tenth street and south of McKenna. Whether the privileges asked for by the C. P. R. would conflict, the commissioners do not think it is the business of the city to decide. In their opinion the city should let the question go to the railway commission for a decision.

A similar letter received from the commission by the secretary of the board of trade will also be a subject of discussion at the next meeting of the board of trade.

CONFESSES THEFT OF SILVER.

Wilmington, N.C., April 18.—The mystery concerning the disappearance of $10,000 in currency in transit by mail from this city to New York was cleared up today by the arrest of Edward A. Nelson, 37 years old, of the railway mail service.

Nelson made a complete confession. Most of the money was found under Nelson's house here, where he had buried it.

The fortnightly dance of the Braemar social circle will be held tonight in Rennie's academy.

AWAIT ONLY CONFIRMATION

Of Appointment of Postmen Before Carrier Service is inaugurated in City.

Preparations are now completed for the inauguration of the carrier letter and paper delivery in Edmonton and all that remains is the approval of Ottawa of the appointment for the positions of carriers of which there will be seven.

To the Bulletin this forenoon Postmaster May said that only a very small percentage of the mail now received at the city office is addressed to the street and number of the house of the person to whom it is directed. Till this is done the work of delivery will be difficult to perform properly as it will require much time for the post office clerks to ascertain the addresses.

Along this line the postmaster desires to impress upon the citizens a wish to avail himself of the carrier service the necessity of having all his correspondence addressed to his residence.

It is also desired that merchants who send out a large number of monthly accounts should endeavor to get the complete addresses of their customers. At present many letters are weekly returned as undelivered principally due to the fact that it is impossible to locate the persons to whom they are directed.

If these requests are complied with Postmaster May is confident that the new service will be very satisfactory to the citizens generally and greatly expedite the work of the post office officials.

Bribed Police Officer.

New York, April 18.—Benjamin Glindel, a member of Glindel Bros., proprietors of one of the largest department stores of Philadelphia, was arrested here today, and on being arraigned was held on the double charge of improper conduct and attempted bribery of a police officer. The latter complaint was preferred at the instance of the district attorney's office, after Glindel had been taken into custody.

Earthquake at Manila.

Manila, April 18.—Two severe earthquakes were felt this morning; no damage is reported.

DEMANDED DISMISSAL OF TWO NON-STRIKERS

Morinville Miners Would Not Return to Work Unless the Demand was Acceded to—Settlement Reached Provides for Only Slight Wage Increases—C.N.R. Saved From Tie-up.

At a conference held last night in the Victoria hotel, Morinville, between Contractors Holcom and Albertson, of the Morinville mines, and the striking miners an agreement was reached and the men are back at work today.

As a result of the agreement two of the miners who remained at work, relating to join the strikers when they went out a week ago, have been dismissed. This was one of the conditions of the settlement and a point on which the strikers would not yield.

"Will any provision be made for men who remained faithful to the company?" asked the Bulletin representative when speaking to the contractor of the settlement.

"We shall look after them," was the reply, "and see that they do not suffer as the result of what they have done for us."

The Canadian Northern Railway, who get all the coal for their engines on the western line from these mines, are saved from the probability of a tie up of their service which was seriously threatened during the past week. Today they have received three cars, and the mines will be able to turn out ten cars or about three hundred tons daily in future.

There were about seventy-five miners out for a week as the result of the strike.

At the meeting last night about forty were present. The terms agreed upon were as follows:—

The men shall receive thirty cents a car, the same as formerly. The price of cross-cutting shall be increased from fifty cents to $1 per yard and five cents a yard shall be paid for extra work on the bones between the coal seams.

Where miners have to push cars over a distance of 200 feet to the coal dump they will be paid 50 cents a car, in addition to the regular 30 cents a yard for mining the coal.

A FATAL FIRE IN MONTREAL

Two Burned to Death and Several Injured as Result of Blaze in Laundry.

Associated Press Dispatch.

Montreal, April 18.—Two were burned to death and several were badly injured this afternoon by a fire in the Canada steam laundry, St. Justin street.

The seriously injured are:— Mrs. P. Giroux, 46 years of age, 166 Versailles street. She jumped from an upper window and besides injuries received in the fall was frightfully burned from head to foot. It is expected that she will not survive.

Mrs. Albertine Paradis, 35 years of age, 516, Sanguin street, jumped and missed the life net. Her face was burned and her right arm fractured.

Mrs. Victoria Daigle, 30 years of age, 121 Wolfe street, broke her right ankle.

Mrs. Jean Benoit, 30 years of age, 3 Borgeau avenue, severe burns on face and back.

Mrs. A. Frouin, 30 years of age, 299 Montcalm street, hands and face burned and several ribs broken.

The lightly injured were: Miss Anna Kienne, Ontario st., burns on back and left arm; Miss Yvonne Kercher, St. Christopher, right arm fractured and face burned; Miss George Lavigne, Rachel street, face and arm burned; Marie Rodrigue, suffering from shock.

The fire itself was a comparatively trivial affair, the most liberal estimate of the damages not exceeding $800, but the flames spread with such tremendous rapidity that the fire of the thirty odd people in the building had a moment to think before they were either saved or cut off.

The buildings were used by the Canada Steam Laundry and Dyeing company, and in their cleaning operations they used large quantities of benzine which is almost as dangerous as dynamite. It was in the cleaning room that the fire originated.

Mr. Deschamps, the proprietor, with an assistant, was operating a rotary machine, used to clean clothes. He noticed that the machine was heating, the benzine running out on the cement floor. As the room was very hot Deschamps at once realized the danger and tried to stop the machine, but he failed to do so.

ANNIVERSARY OF 'FRISCO QUAKE

Remarkable Rehabilitation of the Golden Gate City.

Associated Press Dispatch.

San Francisco, April 18.—The first anniversary of the earthquake and fire which left this city in ruins was observed today by appropriate religious services and commemorative exercises by the building trades' council and other organizations.

The chief event was a banquet by the Merchants' association at the Hotel McLaughlin, at which the material and civic regeneration of the city were discussed.

President Frank J. Symmes, of the association, was the guest of honor, and addressed the guests as "The City and the Merchants." He said in part:—

"Insurance companies of the world were called upon to meet the loss. Loss claims were filed for $225,000,000 and of this sum $135,000,000 was against two San Francisco companies. One of these companies assessed its stockholders fifty per cent. of whom were residents in San Francisco—three times its capital. The other, having ninety per cent. of its capital in this city, assessed its stockholders six and three-fourths times its capital. Such an example of corporation honor the world has never before known. Would that the rest of the world had done as well. The insurance loss will never be known. Two hundred and fifty million."

"From a building point of view," he continued, "this city is rapidly recovering; our progress has been creditable and satisfactory, and no man need fear the future in this direction. Building permits to April first, 1907, have been issued to the extent of $655,079,776. The labor commissioner reports a wage payment of a million a week."

"The bank clearings have never been so high, have shown an average increase of ten per cent. over the corresponding periods of 1905. The custom house duties increased from $7,137,000 in 1906 to $9,061,000 in 1907. Our exports in 1906 were over $50,000,000 and our imports in 1906 were over $45,000,000."

STRATHCONA NEWS

C. & E. RAILWAY MAY BE TIED UP

Alarming Report Current in Strathcona That Line may be Without Coal in 36 Hours.

An alarming report was current in Strathcona last evening that the Calgary and Edmonton railway had only sufficient coal to last for thirty-six hours owing to the strike that is now existing in the southern mines. Should such be the case Strathcona and Edmonton at a critical junction in the spring, would be without direct communication with the south and inevitable loss would be the result in thus preventing the incoming of immigrants and freight to this district. Enquiry made at the local office of the C. P. R. failed to elicit any further information but it was suggested that other means might be utilized should there be trouble in providing the necessary motive power.

In the meantime the public will await with anxious expectancy the result of the southern labor troubles and hope for their speedy settlement.

THE STRATHCONA STATION.

There is considerable speculation as to the location of the new $60,000 station which it is the intention of the C. P. R. to erect at Strathcona this summer. A number of engineers are now in the city, but nothing has

WANT FRANCHISE RESTORED THEM

Indians From Brant Reserve
Interview Mr. Whitney—Recently
Saw Mr. Oliver.

Toronto, April 18.—A delegation of Indians from the Six Nations reserve, near Brantford, waited upon Prime Minister Whitney recently and asked that the franchise be restored to them. They have now neither municipal nor other vote, these privileges having been taken away from them by a change in the Act. An Indian of the reserve is allowed to vote, and this is looked upon as discriminatory. They were introduced by Mr. J. H. Fisher, M.P.P., and Mr. Whitney promised that the matter should have his closest attention, although it is too late for action at the present session.

The delegation consisted of Messrs. Jacob Miller, William Davis, Walter Davis, L. Roy Hill, Edward Davis and David S. Hill. The same men have waited upon the Hon. Frank Oliver at Ottawa, asking the Government to give them the right to use the elective system in the selection of chiefs. The request was very favorably considered. While in Ottawa they got a letter endorsing their attitude on the question of political franchise, signed by their representatives, Messrs. Cockshutt and Lawlor, and by sixteen other members of Parliament. This they brought to Toronto and handed to Mr. Whitney.

The reserve is in Brant and Haldimand Counties. There are 4,600 people there, representing 1,180 votes.

AT THE OPERA.

A crowded house greeted the Summers Stock company Wednesday evening in the opera house. "My Old Kentucky Home" held the boards. The scene of the play is laid in old Kentucky in the troublous times of the civil war in the home of Judge Carlisle, under whose direction a band of Kentucky Independents were organized to aid the Confederate cause. The play is full of many tense and dramatic situations which follow in too close succession, requiring very sudden transitions and making unusual demands upon the actors. The play also has too much declamation, and gives a temptation to both Miss Stevenson and Mr. Burke to parade their elocutionary talent. The action of the play is too rapid to have much time for declamation. Apart from this criticism the players did well. Miss Stevenson did some really strong work, while Miss Steadley, as Gay Carlisle, was a strong competitor for the appreciation of the audience. Miss Natoli as usual succeeded admirably in playing a most detestable role. One K. Moore, as Pat, contributed his quota of genuine Irish fun. Mr. Summers, as the war correspondent, definitely been stated by them. The general opinion, however, is that the new structure will be erected a short distance south of the present one.

TO ADVERTISE THE CITY.

A number of proposals have been before the publicity committee of the board of trade for advertising the city. Several local publications and the Winnipeg Free Press have been foremost in presenting their claims, but it was decided by the committee to refer the matter to the council of the board for decision.

LOCALS.

Letters received from Rev. D. Fleming intimate that he is beginning now to feel the benefits of his enforced holiday.

On Sunday in Knox church the pulpit will be occupied by Mr. Fullerton, Edmonton, in the morning and in the evening by Rev. Dr. Macdonald. A sidewalk has been completed along the street in front of the public hospital, and now going and coming to that frequently visited institution is much easier.

D. L. Campbell, who has the contract for transferring the dredge at the Clark Street Co. to White Star Creek, received an ugly but not serious injury on the head while lifting a part of the machinery from a railway car.

The laying of the corner stone of the new Knox church has been finally fixed for Monday, April 22nd, a week from the coming Monday. The program will be an important one, including music by the choir of the church and a number of distinguished gentlemen, who will give addresses. The time will be 1.30 p.m.

As usual came in for a generous measure of applause, both from the nature of his part and from the mixture of humor and earnestness in his setting.

"My Wife's Family" is the title of a merry musical comedy concert written by Stephens and Linton, which comes to the Opera House, Monday and Tuesday next. "This farce met with immediate success when presented last season and is duplicating that success again this year wherever it is produced.

The story, which is a clever one, tells of the trials and tribulations of a young married man endeavoring to rid himself of his mother-in-law and his wife's relatives. He resorts to everything except murder to accomplish his end, and as can be imagined the many mixups and funny complications which ensue furnish plenty of ludicrous situations and laughable scenes. The cast employed in the interpretation of the merry musical mélange is one of the best on tour, including as it does some of the best farceurs on the comedy stage.

FROM DAY TO DAY

THE GOOD OF LIFE.

Grow old along with me!

The last of life for which the first was made:
Our times are in His hand

Youth shows but half, trust God! I see
All, nor be afraid."—Browning.

CHAMBERLAIN IN RETIREMENT.

At the important Intercolonial Conference being held this year in London one strong figure, dominant in the last conference, is missing.

So ill now that Mrs. Chamberlain has summoned her mother from Boston. It has been realized in England for some time that the statesman was seriously ill. Someone writing from England lately said that the south-west flight of the Chamberlains, to the south of France in search of health, had a very pathetic aspect.

If the former Secretary of State for the Colonies had been a political offender, fleeing from justice, and this woman, greater secrecy could not have been observed. It is well known that Mr. Chamberlain has always been averse to the privacy of his home and family life being invaded by the newspaper reporters, and apparently this dislike has grown with his illness, but one cannot help feeling that the mystery which has enveloped his existence for the last few months has been a mistake from some point of view; it has given rise to sinister reports regarding his condition which are not verified by those who have of late been privileged to stroll about his garden with him, enjoying the excellent cigar which no one more appreciates than that devotee of "my Lady Stowe."

The writer was told by one of these personal friends, who had been with Mr. Chamberlain ten days before, that the absolute truth of the matter was, that always a prey to gout, Mr. Chamberlain had in the last attack suffered terribly from gout in the eyes, as well as having both hands and feet crippled for nearly three months. First of all he regarded one use of his feet, which were for weeks so painful that he could not put them to the ground, and gradually his hands have become less infested, and distorted, but the gout in the eyes is still troublesome, and the doctors have to face the problem of driving out the gout by severe remedies while he trusts to a life of perfect rest and open air existence to keep the system fit for the battle against the debilitating gout medicine.

INNOVATION IN MOURNING MODES.

Every year it becomes more evident that mourning customs are leaving the days of dusty carpe lengths behind, and heaping to the amount of black worn by women on the death of relatives.

Mourning is so clearly a matter of the heart's inner feelings and not of the outer garments that it is only a matter for wonder women did not discard crape and ponderous black garments years ago.

The news that a European has been noticed in Jamaica wearing white as mourning for a relative lost in the recent catastrophe recalls the fact that the color was originally employed in many countries to indicate reverence for the dead.

In fact, the custom obtained in Europe as late as the reign of Charles VIII. of France, and in Italy, too, it lingered, though for women only, the men wearing brown. In Ethiopia the white soon changed to gray and in Egypt to yellow.

China, however, employs it to this day. Other colors have had their vogue—blue, for instance, which even now is used in Turkey, Armenia and Syria. The latter signifies the heavenly region, while stands for purity; gray and brown typify our mother earth, and black, our customary mourning color, would seem to suggest an eternity of night.

SOCIAL.

Mrs. George Stobell will receive in future on the third Wednesday of each month.

His Lordship Bishop Legal accompanied Father Lacombe to the city yesterday from St. Albert. The latter leaves today for his hermitage at Pincher Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Fisher, who are absent on their honeymoon, are at present in Atlantic City, and are expected this week in Ottawa, where they will spend a short time with Mr. and Mrs. Berkeley Powell before leaving for their home in Cochrane.

The marriage of Miss Marie Louis Laverne, daughter of Mr. Louis Laverne, M.P., to Hon. Judge Albert Malouin, of the Superior Court of Quebec, took place recently at Arthique. Bishop Ruess, of Nicolet, uncle of the bridegroom, officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a pale green chiffon velvet gown, trimmed with real lace, and a tulle hat. She carried a bridal rose shawl bouquet. Mr. Philip Malouin, K.C., of Quebec, acted as witness for his brother. Breakfast was served at the residence of the bride's parents.

At the house of the bride's parents, at Idylwyld, Guelph, the marriage was recently celebrated of Miss Edith Alice McLachlan, to the Rev. Robert Cochrane, M.A., of Knox Church, Woodstock. The Rev. R. W. Ross, of Knox Church, Guelph, performed the ceremony, with the assistance of the Rev. Dr. Romeroville and Rev. Alexander MacGillivray, both of Toronto. The bride, who wore her mother's wedding dress of white corded silk trimmed with Honiton lace, and long tulle veil, which was fastened with orange blossoms, carried a bouquet of white roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Helena McLachlan, Miss Hope McLachlan, Montreal, and Miss Allison Dickson, London. The groomsmen were Mr. R. R. Cochrane, the ushers Messrs. David Dix and A. E. Hamilton, of Toronto. Mr. and Mrs. Cochrane left after the bridal supper for Toronto and New York.

RELIEF TO THE CANTON DISTRICT.

The Chinese residents of Edmonton, most of whom are from the Canton district, have recently got word that there is considerable suffering in their home-district, entailed by the scarcity of rice and the high prices asked for it.

All the rice available is being hurried in to the Shanghai and other famine districts, with the result that more fortunate parts of China are also suffering dearth of food.

The Chinese in Edmonton have opened up a new subscription for the Canton district and Star Church who is in charge of the collections and about $60 collected. The Chinese are giving different amounts from $1 to $10. A few Canadian friends are also helping them.

The final result of the subscriptions to the fund will be forwarded to the offices of the Chung Wah Way Quon in Victoria, B. C., which league acts ordinarily as a charitable organization to Chinese in hard luck in Canada. Now it will make a return from Chinese in Canada to their countrymen at home.

SPORTING NEWS

CLEARED IN PE ROLUS.

Clubs in the city hockey league should all start next season with a small balance to the credit of the Secretary (Gillespie) mailed to the treasurer of each team a cheque for $5.00, the amount coming to each of the clubs after all the league expenses had been paid. Besides returning this amount to each of the clubs the league has an outfit of goal nets, pucks and balls to the good. The only revenues the association had were the membership fees, one exhibition game and deposits with referees and for certificates for new players after the season had opened.

PROVINCIAL LACROSSE LEAGUE.

The announcement that the Lethbridge lacrosse club organization meeting will not be held till late in April is pretty good evidence that the convention of delegates to organize the Alberta lacrosse league will not be held until early in May, as it would be unwise to call the delegates together to arrange for a provincial series of games until it is definitely known how many players will enter twelve in the association.

Medicine Hat is the newest center to throw up its hat for the Alberta league. That city was expecting to cut a big figure in the Crow's Nest league, but it is not likely to materialize this year and now the Hat waits to get into the new western association, and would like to make connections in a district embracing Edmonton, Strathcona, Olds, Red Deer, Wetaskiwin and Calgary.

LACROSSE AT CALGARY.

The admirers of Canada's national game at Calgary are looking for a great season's sport in that city this year, though there was very little trying in this line in 1906.

It is estimated there are now at least two dozen stick handlers in the city who know the game and are anxious to play and there is sure to be considerable new material blown into town in the next few months. There is a complete outfit of sticks, uniforms, goal nets, etc., available, which were purchased a year ago, and only a little financial assistance is required to set the club up in business.

The city will certainly have a team in the Alberta league, and will take a strong stand for the rigid enforcement of the amateur rule as defined in Eastern athletic circles. Already an invitation has been received for games at Strathcona on May 23 and 24 and the university town will likely be obliged with at least one match.

LACROSSE.

This is going to be an off year for the game in Manitoba.

Medicine Hat will have senior and junior twelve this year. The team colors will be worn by each club.

To date Calgary team has been invited to play at Medicine Hat, Lethbridge and Strathcona on May 26th.

Looks as if there would be only two clubs in the senior series in the Manitoba section of the Western Canada league.

Toronto lacrosse enthusiasts will have to pay the reserve seat at the big league games this year. The price was half a dollar previously.

Regina has the drag net out already for players and Billy Martin and Alex McCarty, the star defence men of the Winnipeg team in 1906, have been secured.

Tommy Wilkinson, formerly of Westminster, Orlia, Toronto, Tecumseh, and numerous other teams, goes to Fort William this year to manage a hotel and incidentally play a little lacrosse.

Ex-president Miller, of the C.L.A. who is taking a team to Australia has written Medicine Hat for if an exhibition game can be arranged in that city en route for the Antipodes. Steps may also be made at Regina and Calgary.

The executive of the Moose Jaw club are attempting to arouse lacrosse enthusiasts throughout Saskatchewan with a view to organizing a provincial league. A meeting will be held at Regina before the end of the month to talk the matter over.

Johnny Power, the small inside home of the Ottawa Capitals, will add the new stick to the Edmonton team and will have them expressed here in a few days. Johnny ought to know the good ones, he's been playing the game long enough.

The executive of the Edmonton team will have Lethbridge or one of the other fast southern twelves here for a game on May 26th if satisfactory arrangements can be made.

If Mr. Miller ever gets that C.L.A. segregation of his as far as Vancouver or their Australia trip, the exhibition game they will play in the Terminal City will be against an all star twelve gathered from the best teams in British Columbia.

Alf Smith, of Ottawa hockey fame, and who once played a rough and ready brand of lacrosse for the Toronto, has received an offer to go to Chicago and coach the lacrosse team there. That Alf could teach them a few tricks, no one who ever played against him is prepared to deny.

It is stated in lacrosse circles that Alex. Turnbull, the veteran center-finder of the New Westminster team, who has made such a splendid and famous record playing for the Royal City, will shortly remove to Vancouver, as he has been offered a splendid position there, and may take a prominent part in lacrosse circles in the Terminal City.

BASEBALL.

The Western Canada league pennant and medals are now on exhibition at Medicine Hat.

The contract for fencing in the new grounds at Medicine Hat has been let. The work will cost $42.

Manager Dugdale claims Seattle will have the fastest outfield of any team in the Coast league this year.

An odd-fitter from the States, now resident at Medicine Hat, has been secured to lay out the Gas Meter's new field.

Quinn, the new Calgary catcher, claims to hold the record for the state of Massachusetts for long distance throwing.

Wonder where Pitcher Mason, he of the seventeen years' big league experience, was when the boys had their picnic lot.

Intermediate players should turn out for practice on the old baseball grounds on Second street tonight. The club will be organized after the work out.

A. E. Humphries, the publicity agent with the Lethbridge team, will visit the aggregation at La Crosse, Wis., next week. He leaves on the 26th.

Edmonton expects to open the season on the new grounds. The fence has been torn down from around the old Second street field and will be used to enclose the new park.

The Albertans say Calgary has the "third strongest Canadian baseball aggregation," but the paper might have gone further and said the two superior teams were located at Edmonton and Lethbridge.

James Fleming is in receipt of a photo of the Medicine Hat baseball team taken at Cincinnati. They are a likely looking bunch—all young and out to make a name for themselves—Times.

Just before leaving for Spokane, President Natus of the Edmonton club received from Secretary Barrell of the American Baseball association a complimentary passbook that will admit him to any game on any grounds where organized baseball is played in Canada or United States.

Medicine Hat team is playing exhibition games on Sunday across the line. Manager Nierstheimer had better.

B.C. GOVERNMENT HOLDING UP G.T.P.

Will not Permit Railway on Indian Reserve and Work is at a Standstill.

Vancouver, April 16.—To be assured that the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company is holding the warning not to encroach upon the Indian reserve at Kaien Island, the Provincial Government is maintaining a provincial constabulary on the spot permanently. All work upon the reserve, which adjoins the townsite bought by the railway company from the Government, has been suspended. One large building, the foundations of which are laid, over on the reserve, remains in an uncompleted state as a consequence of the order that there must be no trespass upon the Indian lands. Information received today from a man who has just returned from Prince Rupert is to the effect that little work is now being carried on there because of the failure of the railway company to secure the Indian lands. It is stated that the topography of that portion of the reserve adjoining the original townsite is such that the Indian lands would serve better for a townsite than the lands now held by the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Surveyors Go to Prairies.
In the north it is a matter of accepted belief that the railway company never really intended to do any terminus on the ten thousand acres bought from the Government of British Columbia.

Failing to get the Indian lands, the Grand Trunk Pacific Company has now a few men engaged in clearing a site on its own land for a projected hotel, but even should the work be prosecuted more actively than is now the case, the hotel cannot possibly be ready for occupation for many months.

Many of the surveyors engaged in laying out the townsite lines and the railway route on Kaien Island have already been transferred from Prince Rupert to the prairies, and more of the staff is ready to follow just as soon as arrangements to leave the northern camp can be made.

When Will Lots Be Sold?
In view of the peculiar position in which the Grand Trunk Pacific now finds itself, people are wondering if the townsite of Prince Rupert will ever see the market this year, as its promoters announced many months ago would be the case. It is coming to be the general belief that there will be no lots sold in Prince Rupert this year.

Toronto Men Organize to Secure more Liberty on the Sabbath.

Toronto, April 15.—A number of gentlemen met yesterday afternoon and organized the Canadian Rational Sunday League. Letters were read from Professor Goldwin Smith and several others, approving of the movement and promising their support.

The following resolutions were unanimously passed:
"That it is desirable to organize an association similar to the London Rational Sunday League, for promoting healthy and innocent recreation on Sundays, and to oppose tyrannical and restrictive legislation regarding Sunday, and it is felt that recent legislation on this subject has been carried too far, interfering with individual liberty to an extent unknown in any other country under the British flag."

Out Against Legislation.
"That this association be called the Canadian Rational Sunday League, and that its declared objects be:

"To promote rational Sunday recreation.
"To secure the opening of picture galleries, museums and reading rooms on Sundays.
"To provide music on Sunday afternoons in the parks or other convenient places.

"To obtain legislation allowing a charge to be made for popular Sunday lectures or concerts, and
"To oppose restrictive legislation regarding Sunday observance."

J. L. Brown, of the Royal hotel, has leased the Maple Leaf hotel at Maple Creek.

The city council has decided to extend the gas system to the corporation limits to meet the need of two large brick manufacturing concerns, the plants for which are now being installed.

Representatives of the western canneries who are touring the west seeking the city council for a license to secure the industry. The council will communicate with the board at Winnipeg.

The R. B. Stoner Land company, of Minneapolis, which recently purchased the 72,000 acre Stair farm and sold it in small parcels, is responsible for the incorporation of the Medicine Hat Coal and Brick company which will develop the coal mines and clay deposits on 600 acres of the Stair farm which were reserved. The company intends boring for gas at the scale of operations will install an electric line from the city. The stock is all held by seven Minneapolis men and is not on the market. S. J. Hewson of the Mesonames Brick Co., of Minneapolis, which supplies the Canadian west with most of its pressed brick is a large stockholder and has been in the city all week.

FATHER LACOMBE'S EIGHTIETH ANNIVERSARY.

The eightieth birthday of Father Lacombe, the veteran Oblate missionary, occurred during his recent visit to Montreal and was celebrated royally there by his friends.

The Archbishop's palace was his for the day, and the aged missionary's guests included such different personalities as the C. P. R.'s president and vice-president and humble country pastors.

Since his return to the West the opportunity is being taken to celebrate the occasion in a quiet fashion here. Wednesday night the Convent of St. Albert was the scene of a delightful entertainment at which the guests of honor were the venerable missionary, after whom St. Albert was named several decades ago, and His Lordship Bishop Legal.

The programme, which was in part carried out by the Indian pupils, consisted of various drills, songs and several enjoyable mandolin selections by a group of eight Indian girls. The latter had been taught by Rev. Father Woldevans, of Wetsikwin, an accomplished musician.

The musical drill included the tambourine features; a good-night drill in which the little girls appeared with dolls and candles and one very cleverly done with bells.

Over the stage a long banner extended on which the legend "1827 St. Sulpice—1907, St. Albert," told in epitome the long days of the guest of the evening. A pleasing address was read by a tiny boy from Pincher Creek, to which Pere Lacombe responded in his inimitable way.

Excellent orchestral music was furnished throughout the evening by a band of Indian boys.

TO CONTRACTORS.

Tenders are invited to be sent in by noon of 20th April to the undersigned for Plastering, Painting, etc. for the Bank of Montreal, Edmonton.

Specifications and plans may be seen at the office of R. Perry Barnes, Architect, 14 Jasper Avenue, West, Edmonton.

TO BEAUTIFY SCHOOL GROUNDS

Public School Board will Undertake this. Large Increase in Attendance at Schools.

An important movement was inaugurated by the Public School Board at its last meeting. The Chairman introduced the matter of school grounds. It is felt by the board that in addition to providing first class accommodation for pupils that the schools, being public buildings, should be an adornment to the city.

So far the work of the board in housing the children has meant a large sacrifice of time on their part, but an energetic campaign is being opened for beautifying the surroundings of the permanent buildings. It is proposed that at Queen's avenue, the front part of the premises should be separated from the rear, and that it should be laid out in flower plots, sown to grass and that ornamental trees and shrubs should be planted.

At McKay avenue likewise the ground margin on the street will be similarly looked after. The details are not fully decided upon, but the work will be well done in the near future.

The school population of the city, an undeniable evidence of the growth of Edmonton, continues to show an increase. The report of the superintendent of city schools for attendance at the beginning of the spring term shows a decided advance over that of March.

Of new pupils entering school for the first time, in the four schools the number is 82. This still leaves an increase of 44 pupils entering the different grades from outside, and the number of these is increasing every week. The backward weather is somewhat delaying the increase of newcomers, and it is expected that the number of these will not be less than 100 for the spring term, making a total increase of 182.

More Rooms Needed.
If this expectation is fulfilled it will require the opening of another room immediately in addition to the two which are being opened in North Syndicate this week.

The largest increase so far has been in McKay avenue school, where 50 new pupils have been received. This indicates a rapid growth in the west end, but, on the other hand, the east end is served by four schools. The addition of the rooms which have just been opened still leaves the enrolment per room rather high, being about 46 pupils per teacher. It has been the case in other years, however, that quite a number of pupils have quit school with the actual opening of spring work. So that the present distribution of pupils may bring the enrolment more nearly to the 40 mark, which is about the number the school board aims to allot to each teacher.

The new schools on Syndicate avenue will make it possible to carry on the work without congestion until the summer holidays. But it is more than probable that a temporary school will have to be erected in the west end for school opening after the mid-summer holidays. The distance which some of the west end pupils have to walk would make it advisable to afford local facilities for the junior grades in this part of the city.

Salaries Again.
The question of school salaries is again before the board. A committee has been appointed to revise the schedule. This has become necessary in view of the extension of ward schools, the principals of which have hitherto been on the same basis as teachers in charge of rooms in the grade below. It will probably be found necessary to consider the question of remuneration for all grades of teachers.

Miss H. MacLennan, at present in the Queen's avenue site, will be in charge of the North Syndicate avenue school.

IN THE C.P.R. AFTER MACKENZIE

In the debate on the Blainville townsite incident in the House, on Friday last the puzzle was to determine whether the chief object of the assault was the Department of the Interior or Mr. Malcolm MacKenzie, M.P. of Macleod. The war was waged with not more fury about the action of the Department than about Mr. MacKenzie, his conduct, his politics and his possessions. It was asserted, repeated and re-repeated by an adroit perversion of the language of the court that Mr. MacKenzie had "obtained the land through fraud" and the users of this equivocal language were at no pains to explain that the fraud had not been committed by Mr. MacKenzie but by another and without his knowledge, consent or suggestion. The conspicuous discrepancy between the persistent repetition of the equivocal statement and the very casual admission of the operating circumstance was so apparent that nothing short of a direct charge could have been better calculated to give to the House and the country that Mr. MacKenzie had personally made fraudulent representations or had secured such representations upon the strength of which he had secured the land.

Another line of attack deliberately pressed against Mr. MacKenzie was the fact that he was a Liberal in politics, had been a Liberal candidate in a Federal election and was now a member of the legislature of Alberta and a supporter of the Liberal Government of that province. These facts were repeated and reiterated as if supplying in themselves all necessary evidence that his claims to the land were ill-founded and providing good and sufficient reason why his title to ownership should be set aside. This was the half-expressed but ill-concealed grievance which gave the under-tone to the entire discussion and was solemnly paraded in the resolution to which the Opposition were pleased to attach their speeches.

Yet another ground of offence was found against Mr. MacKenzie—that the land in question had become valuable. The mover of the resolution estimated it at a value of from $100,000 to $200,000 or cited others who did so. Fortwith the ears of Opposition gentlemen prickled up—"Western lands" is a hot stirring topic with certain of them these days and at the appalling suggestion of a Bill holding land valued at $200,000 "Billy" Bennett dropped his eyebrows while the delivery visage of Hon. Geo. E. Foster emerged from under his hat—a fatter grin than usual. The figures probably were suggestive—the sum was exactly the take-off gathered in on the first shuffle of the Pope-Fowler land. Whether the disturbing element was envy or recollection it apparently was overpowering for neither Mr. Foster nor Mr. Bennett were in their seats in the evening. Whether they were weeping tears of jealousy or repenting in privacy will probably never be known. Sometimes their less sensitive or less acquisitive friends continued to assail Mr. MacKenzie because the land was valuable. What earthly connection the value of the land could have to the question of its ownership they did not deny to inform the House but coolly took the position that the land was valuable—therefore it should be taken from the possessor forthwith.

That the administration of the Department of the Interior past and present is a proper subject for parliamentary debate is not a matter open for argument and those who introduce such debate are quite within their right and duty, but why this simultaneous assault on the character of a gentleman not at all connected with that Department and having no privilege of defending himself on the floor of parliament? The mover of the resolution was careful to announce that he held no brief for Mr. Lyon or any other claimant but was asking simply for the disposition of Mr. MacKenzie and his land was followed faithfully by his colleagues. That any objection should be disavowed with the finding of the Exchequer Court was not advanced as a reason for introducing the subject into parliament. The Opposition accepted therefore the position of having either brought up the subject of their own violation and in the hope of scoring a political point by the defamation of private character or speaking for some other person whose interests were not more concerned in discrediting the Department of the Interior than in destroying the reputation of Mr. MacKenzie. Now if it was competent to consider in connection with this matter the political complexion of Mr. MacKenzie, his political ambitions and his political standing it surely is quite as proper to consider also his political accomplishments. If it was fair to launch an inference from his political convictions and associations it surely is quite as fair to launch an inference also from his political performances. If it was competent to avow Mr. MacKenzie's political relationship as an excuse for an attack for which no other excuse was offered, it surely is quite as proper to search in Mr. MacKenzie's political record for the real motive and cause which lies behind the excuse.

Has Mr. MacKenzie then initiated or approved any cause likely to draw upon him the hostility of an element in Western politics powerful enough to demand revenge at the hands of the Government? Has he been involved in any event in Mr. MacKenzie's political record was the movement for the taxation of railway companies. This movement Mr. MacKenzie originated, developed, and advocated with the utmost energy and was transmitted into law and carried into execution, to the satisfaction and benefit of the people of Alberta and the corresponding cost and disrepute of the railway companies.

During the campaign for the provincial elections in Alberta Mr. MacKenzie announced a plan by which the Canadian Pacific Railway Corporation might be evaded. His plan was that while the C.P.R. main line was exempt the province should simply assess and tax the branch lines heavily enough to make up to the province the loss sustained by the exemption of the main line. Upon this question of how to tax the Canadian Pacific Railway rested the whole question of whether or not the railways of the province should or should not be taxed, for if the older and stronger company could not be taxed it would be contending and outstripping its monopolistic features to tax its younger and weaker competitor.

That the Canadian Pacific Railway appreciated the situation was immediately revealed as all the influence that company could command was thrown into the fight against Mr. MacKenzie and every other Liberal candidate in the province. Fortunately the people of Alberta also appreciated the position and the Government endorsed by overwhelming majority. One of the bills passed at the session of the Legislature coincided Mr. MacKenzie's plan into law and forthwith the railways of the province became tax-payers. By reason of this movement brought forward by Mr. MacKenzie is C.P.R. has set itself up against a new proposition and a somewhat disagreeable one, that of paying taxes to the province of Alberta.

That this will be either forgotten or forgiven neither Mr. MacKenzie nor any other Liberal member in Alberta need imagine, and that the Canadian Pacific Railway will call upon its friends and allies wherever and however possible to wreck vengeance upon the originator of the fall design may be assured. Throughout Western Canada the Conservative party and the Canadian Pacific Railway go hand-in-hand and under normal conditions it would doubtless be left to the corporation's allies in Alberta's Senate to take care of the company. But the unwholy alliance is not in normal condition in Alberta today and the two lone survivors of the fray have not even avenged enough to launch a slander. What more natural than that the Federal Opposition should be called upon to discharge the service to the common ally which the Alberta attack is not in a position to discharge? That the assault was in parliament directed against Mr. MacKenzie simply and solely on the ground that he was a Liberal, had been a candidate in a Federal election and is now a member of the Alberta legislature is quite as good evidence as is needed that the Federal Opposition party is prepared to knite the character of the provincial legislator who dare consider the interest of his province superior to the interest of the C.P.R.

THE PARLIAMENTARY COUNCIL.
The double vote of the mayor was the means of passing the executive or monopoly feature of the natural gas franchise at the council meeting on Tuesday evening. The result is not of very great consequence as it has to be voted upon by the ratepayers, but the ruling of the year by which he gets a second vote is as amusing a piece of comic opera politics as has been seen in this city.

By some stretch of imagination the mayor seems to have identified himself the chairman of a private bills committee with a real live private bill before it and it is not to be wondered that a man with an imagination like that would easily fancy himself as good as two ordinary aldermen.

It is not quite clear whether he first found the convenient ruling in Bourne and then worked in the private bills idea to serve the purpose, or whether he always fancied a moral in the city council was a private bill in the House of Commons and Bourne just naturally played his part. Or perhaps he is trying to fashion his administration after that of the late Mr. Mayor Howland of Toronto who styled his controllers cabinet ministers until the public laughed him out of it. Of course it is natural for the mayor to think in the terms of parliament for has he been trying to teach the city aldermen the rules and ethics of parliamentary procedure, demanding that they stand uncovered before his worship when they speak, while he goes on with unlimited license to violate the first rule of order by making speeches and offering advice without leaving the chair or troubling to stand up. And the most amusing feature of the whole proceedings is that he is serious through it all.

Independent of what may or may not be said about the Insurance Inquiry on Mr. Foster explain by what ethical law he can justify his action in using Union Trust funds, and I. O. Mr. Geo. Fowler, M.P. threatens his opponents with certain "data" he presumes to possess. We know he has data somewhere in concealment—for example the data the public would like to have explaining why Mr. Fowler was paid $200,000 by the Union Trust Company for an option on a certain British Columbia lumber property who with amount really called for by the option was only $170,000. To whom did Mr. Stevenson, supreme counsellor of the I.O.F., refer when he said of this transaction, "We have been swindled out of $20,000?"

TROUBLE AHEAD FOR ARTIFICIAL GAS COY

In Securing a Non-exclusive Franchise—Council Bucks on Points Admitting of any Argument—Got Through Whole Agreement With Exception of Three Clauses.

There isn't any chance of the International Heating and Lighting Co. getting anything more than to come to them from the city council. This is the Cleveland company which has applied for a non-exclusive artificial gas franchise. Considerable opposition to the proposed franchise was developed at the adjourned meeting of the council held last night to consider the draft agreement between the city and the company. Despite this fact, however, the whole agreement was gone over and approved with the exception of three clauses.

When the council convened, Alderman Smith at the mayor's suggestion, moved that the council resolve itself into a committee on private bills. The obvious intention of this motion was to make it possible for the mayor to vote twice if he so desired, and to make his position technically unassailable in the event of his doing so. But the motion was lost.

Then Alderman Walker moved the council go into a committee of the whole. This carried.

The turn didn't rattle the mayor but he made a statement which demonstrated just where he stood.

"I would vote twice anyway," he said, "I would like to point out," he said, "that I gave a ruling on just this point, and whether you like it or not, I shall vote the same as I did before. If I am compelled to do so. That is I shall vote twice if it becomes necessary. This is actually a committee considering a private bill."

The matter dropped here, and at no time during the discussion of the agreement was the mayor called upon to vote either twice or at all.

Opposed From the Start.

Alderman Picard announced his position at the opening of the ceremony, as unalterably opposed to considering the granting of a franchise to the artificial company at all.

"I would not be against granting this company a franchise," he said, "if it were to come to this council and apply for one at the end of two years. This would permit of finding out whether the natural gas company were successful in locating gas."

"It is not in the interests of the city to have two companies lay mains in the city streets. But apart from that, it is morally certain that the natural gas company's franchise will be defeated when it goes before the people because the exclusive feature of the agreement is not understood. This will permit of the artificial gas company, if we give them a franchise jumping into the natural gas company's boots."

"And moreover by giving this company a non-exclusive franchise it will be tying up the city more securely than the exclusive franchise of the natural gas company, for the reason that under this artificial gas company's proposed agreement the prices are fixed, while under the natural gas company's franchise the city has the right to regulate the rates."

Cyrus E. Eaton, the representative of the company, who together with his solicitor, Mr. Grant, were present, stated that under the proposed agreement the rates of the artificial gas company could be regulated at any time.

Acting Solicitor Wallbridge added a rider to this statement by saying that to secure a regulation of the rates it would be necessary to go to law each time a regulation was desired.

As to Prices.

"I would like to know if the city of Regina gave this company only a 15 year franchise?" queried Alderman Gariepy.

"No, the franchise was for 20 years," replied Mr. Eaton.

The mayor asked if it would take a year from next December for the company to commence operating. Mr. Eaton's answer was to the effect that the company had intended putting in its plant this season, but this was now hardly practicable. Still he did not anticipate a year would elapse before the plant was in operation.

Clause thirteen was contentious. This clause referred to the city's option of purchasing at the end of 20 years. Mr. Eaton made the statement that it was the intention of the company to use the one plant to supply both Strathcona and Edmonton. He wanted the clause made so that in the event of the city deciding to purchase, the city should be required to purchase not only the main in Edmonton but those in Strathcona as well. The reason for this was that if the city decided to purchase only the plant in Edmonton the company would have a considerable amount of dead plant on its hands. The committee would not agree to anything which would place the purchasing of the plant beyond the discretion of the council, and the clause was allowed to stand.

The maximum price.

The clause fixing the maximum prices to be charged was held in abeyance until the question was referred to an engineer or an expert. Mr. Eaton stated that he had no objection to the city securing expert advice on the subject, but it would not affect the scale of prices which the company proposed making. These prices, he said, were lower, in comparison, than in any other city in which franchises had been secured.

It was subsequently decided to refer the question to a committee of the council composed of Ald. Walker, Smith and the mayor to report on prices which would be considered fair.

Insisted On It.

It looked for a time as though there would be a split between the company and the committee when clause twenty-two was reached and was discussed. This clause refers to the prices which shall be charged by the company. It is in part as follows:

"The contractors further agree that the prices charged to consumers of gas shall not at any time exceed the average price charged by manufacturers of gas carrying on business in a city of a similar size to that of the city of Edmonton from time to time in any portion of the Dominion of Canada, or in the United States of America, the allowance being made for any difference in the price of gas-coal, gas-oil, coke and other materials commonly used in the manufacture of gas, and so on."

The word commonly was where the argument hinged.

It was suggested that "commonly" be struck out altogether, it having been stated that the International company held patents by which it was able to produce gas cheaper than by coal. But Mr. Eaton insisted on the word remaining.

His Reason for Insistence.

"Our company may as a result of experiments being carried on at a large expense, some day discover a material by which artificial gas may be manufactured cheaper than with coal. If the company is successful and secures a patent on the method we feel that we are entitled to the benefit which would be derived from the fact that we were the only company using the process."

"On the other hand if some other company discovered a process such as this, and secured a patent on it, by putting out the word 'commonly' we would be required to meet that company's prices. We could not compete under such conditions, for the process would be unknown to us. By inserting the clause as it is no handicap is put on the city, for if a process were discovered by any other company, that company could give a franchise in the city, and run us out of business."

"It is unfair to ask us to fix our prices that we must meet any contingency of that character."

Ald. Gariepy insisted Yes.

Ald. Gariepy was equally as insistent as Mr. Eaton that the city should get the benefit of any discovery by which gas might be more cheaply manufactured, even if the company were the only company to whom the process was known.

The clause was finally referred to the same committee as will deal with the question of maximum prices.

The Third Restrictive Clause.

Clause twenty-nine providing for the absolute cessation of any privilege under the franchise at the end of 20 years, was also objected to by Mr. Eaton.

"That clause means that the city may simply confiscate our property, in the event of refusing to purchase, or refusing to extend our franchise. There is no clause like that in the natural gas franchise which the council has approved."

Mr. Wallbridge stated that without the clause the franchise would be practically perpetual, for although the company could not extend its mains, it could still supply gas to its consumers.

This clause was also referred to the special committee for adjustment. The council adjourned at 11.15.

PEEPS INTO WOMEN'S LETTERS

If our readers could spend one morning looking through the letters received from all over Canada by the Zam-Buk Co., it would bring home to them with irresistible force the healing virtues of this great household balm. Old women, young women, wives, mothers and even young girls have something to say about how Zam-Buk did this or that good office in their homes. Many of these writers give permission to make extracts from their grateful testimony. From these the following were taken at random:

"I was troubled for some weeks with salt rheum in hands and arms and was using a salve which did me little good. On receiving a supply of Zam-Buk I applied it, and it really seemed to act like magic! The itching and burning ceased, and in a few days the skin was cleared and healthy." So writes Miss E. A. Stuchard, of North Knapel.

"Three boxes of Zam-Buk cured me of Eczema, from which I had suffered a long time." So says Mrs. Gladden, of Massville, Que.

"Zam-Buk cured a case of blood poison in my family, and I wish to thank you for the great blessing it has proved." Is the effect of a letter from Mrs. Webb, of Dorchester.

And so one could go on quoting extracts after a tract, showing how Zam-Buk cures chronic sores, ulcers, abscesses, bad leg, itch, and blood poison; takes the soreness out of cuts and burns, and grows new, healthy skin over injured or diseased places. Till stores and druggists sell at fifty cents a box, or the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, will mail for price.

THE GOVERNMENT TO OPERATE IT

This Will be Recommended in Reference to C.P.R.'s Prince Albert Branch.

Winipeg, April 18.—A conference between the board of trade and government railway experts who have been sent here to report on the tie up of transportation and to suggest remedies, it was stated that these officials will recommend that the government operate the Prince Albert branch of the C. N. R. in the public interest, the company having shown that its equipment is absolutely inadequate for the freight business of the system.

CIGAR BUTT CAUSED IT.

McGill's Recent Fire Due to Carelessness of a Member of Faculty. Montreal, April 18.—Although the finding of the fire committee does not indicate that the loss of the Medical building was caused by the butt of a cigar falling from the hands of a member of the faculty, everything points to this as being the correct theory of the disastrous fire which caused so great a loss to McGill university. The statement that expelled students had something to do with the fire appears to be about as untenable as the report that suspicious-looking individuals had been seen lurking around the grounds the night of the fire. One thing is pretty sure and that is the presence of the faculty in their rooms up to a late hour on Monday night. As a matter of fact the statement is made that these gentlemen left the room in question about 11 o'clock, and in about two hours that part of the building was in flames. It also came out at the investigation that it was in the faculty room where the fire started, hence minutes the fire remained unbroken.
